

Federica Izzo

Vanderbilt
Department of Political Science
Department of Economics

Website: www.federicaizzo.com
✉ E-mail: federica.izzo@vanderbilt.edu

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

- Assistant Professor, Political Science and Economics, Vanderbilt University, 2024-present.
- Assistant Professor, Political Science, UCSD, 2019-2024.

EDUCATION

- Ph.D. Political Science, London School of Economics, 2014-2019.
 - Visiting research student at Chicago Harris (2017), NYU Political Science (2018).
- M.Sc. Comparative Politics, London School of Economics, 2012-2013.
- B.Sc. Political Science, LUISS (Rome), 2009-2012.

PUBLICATIONS

- “Ideology for The Future”, 2023, American Political Science Review
- “Ideological Competition”, with Gregory Martin and Steven Callander, 2023, American Journal of Political Science
- “With Friends Like These, who Needs Enemies?”, 2024, Journal of Politics
- “The Gatekeeper’s Dilemma: Controlling Political Selection or Incentivizing Team Effort”, with Jon H. Fiva and Janne Tukiainen”, 2024, Journal of Public Economics
- “Who Runs When?”, Forthcoming, Journal of Politics
- “Ideological Argumentation in Party Competition”, with Caherine Hafer and Dimitri Landa, American Journal of Political Science
- “Policy Gambles and Valence in Elections”, with Peter Bils, at Games and Economics Behavior

WORKING PAPERS

- “Ideological Infection”, with Peter Bils, R&R at the American Political Science Review
- “Cumulative Knowledge in the Social Sciences: The Case of Improving Voters’ Information”, with Torun Dewan and Stephane Wolton
- “Learning in a Complex World: How Multidimensionality Affects Policymaking”, with Jesse Crosson and Giovanna Invernizzi
- “Evolving Parties”, with Giovanna Invernizzi
- “Policy Anchors, Voter Behavior, and the Dynamics of Party Platforms”, with Peter Bils and Steven Callander

- Refereeing: AJPS, APSR, JOP, AER, Econometrica, QJE, JTP, QJPS, JLEO, GEB, AEJ, EJ.
- Editorial Board Membership: JOP, PSRM.
- Presentations:
 - Seminars: Emory (2017), University of Wisconsin-Madison (2017), Chicago Harris (2018), Stanford (2018), Princeton (2020), Berkeley Haas (2020), Rochester (2021), Maryland Economics (2021), NYU (2021), Caltech (2021), Chicago Harris (2022), Stanford GSB (2022), Texas A&M (2022), Warwick Economics (2022), Bocconi (2022), Princeton (2022), UNC Chapel Hill (2022), Columbia (2023), Yale (2023), Stanford Political Science (2023), Kellogg (2023), NYU (2024), NYUAD (2024), UNSW (2024), Princeton (2025), UChicago Political Science (2025)
 - Conferences: LSE-NYU (2018), Frontiers of Formal Theory - Vanderbilt (2018), Rotterdam Annual Political Economy Workshop (2018), IBEO Political Economy - Alghero (2018, 2019, 2023), Barcelona GSE Summer Forum (2019), Comparative Politics and Formal Theory - Berkeley (2019), Southern California Comparative Political Institutions (2019), POLECON UK (2021), Madrid Political Economy of Party Organization Workshop (2022), LSE-NYU (2022), Stony Brook International Conference on Game Theory (2022), SITE Conference (2022), Rochester-IE CLARE Conference (2024), APEN Sydney (2024), Harris-GSB American Politics and Political Economy Conference (2025), Princeton-Warwick-Yale Political Economy Conference (2025)
 - Invited Discussant: Stanford SITE conference (2020), Wallis Political Economy Annual conference (2021), BENELUX PECO (2024), NBER Political Economy Spring Meeting (2025), Wallis Political Economy Annual Conference (2025)